WFSF Membership Directory

1993

Editorial

The WFSF Directory is again published in the standard form of previous years. Once more, please check your address data and inform us of any changes.

According to the international practice of societies, the Directory is aimed at fostering WFSF activities and communication between our members and member associations. It is hoped that it will be used widely and actively for those purposes. To use it for any other purpose however, needs a written permission from the office who must consider the members' opinion on disseminating their personal data. Those who don't want their address information to be used for any other purposes, please inform the office.

This is also the time for the membership fee to be collected. I hope you find the Federation worthy of your contribution and continuous interest – they are both vital to our existence.

The future visions of WFSF will be on the Agenda of the General Assembly in Turku in August, and perhaps in an Open Forum on other occasions even before the conference. WENDY SCHULTZ and CHRIS JONES are working on proposals. The issue of the administration of WFSF – General Assembly, Council, President and Secretary General – needs to be raised, too, especially those related to the election and working procedures of the Council.

It is time for all of us to give some thought to these matters. Do you feel that the present administration serves you well, and does it help to make it easy for you to participate and contribute to the WFSF network? Does WFSF give you any benefit in promoting your valuable futures work wherever you are, or can you pinpoint some obvious pitfalls in the administration or people representing the interests of the members in the administrative duties?

I am provoking this discussion to enable you to envision your possible needs, which you might want to have supported or picked up by WFSF for the common good.

The WFSF Newsletter is published four times a year from the WFSF Office of the Secretariat. A yearly subscription to the Newsletter is US$50.00. Subscriptions are included in the yearly dues for WFSF members. Requests for further information may be addressed to:

Editor Pentti Malaska
Managing Editor Anita Rubin

I made a trip to Chungbuk National University in the Republic of Korea after an invitation from Professor KIM TAE-CHANG, the same way as JIM DATOR and TONY STEVENSON had done earlier. It was a most interesting lecture and discussion tour on futures issues with business and societal leaders, teachers, and students and other friendly Koreans. The threat of discordance between the two Koreas was hanging in the air, but it seemed to me that it couldn't spoil the strong enthusiasm, especially of the young people, for the reunification of the two Koreas.

In Tokyo, I had the pleasure of meeting with Dr. KENJI EKUAN, the Secretary General of the JAPAN ASSOCIATION FOR FUTURE RESEARCH, one of the founder institutions of WFSF. We share a belief that the association can play an important role in revitalizing WFSF activities worldwide.

Other meetings with the United Nations University (UNU) people, Professor Fuch Chen Lo and Dr. Juha Uitto, were also helpful in co-ordinating possible co-operation between WFSF and UNU. We especially hope for UNU to be present at our Bangkok course.

With KAORU YAMAGUCHI and TERUSHI TOMITA I had the possibility to experience Tokyo and have talks about WFSF activities and plans.

The preparations for the first futures-creating seminar in August, organized by Kaoru Yamaguchi, are well in order.

It might be a symbolic event, but on a Sunday afternoon in Tokyo when taking a walk around, I rushed into a running race called Run to the Future! The flood of futures is entering our awareness and creating strange new realities. Let's be prepared to meet them.

News and Information

While being in Tokyo PENTTI MALASKA was informed by Prof Fu Chen Lo about that the Feasibility Study project proposal of the Millenium Project has been presented to UNU for considering possible cooperation with UNU. The Feasibility Study Project was launched as the first step of the activity to collect judgements about the process itself. WFSF Council agreed in supporting the project in the Budapest World Conference. This means that we are happy to inform the members about it.

The Millenium Project is a world-wide effort to

- collect and synthesize judgements about future developments and options that can affect the human condition,
- provide decision makers with information that will help focus issues, clarify choices and improve the quality of decisions by making the future dimension more explicit

The project will promote widespread discussion of likely and desirable futures and how to attain them.

Gloria Garcia of the Executive Committee of Non-Governmental Organizations associated with UN Department of Public Information tells us that a handbook of the various NGO activities focused on conflict resolution programs has been published.

She writes about this most timely enterprise

"As Non-Governmental Organizations, we are significant members of the global community and able to contribute to its work in many ways. During the 1992 Department of Public Information Non Governmental Organization Annual Conference, Regional Conflicts Threats to World Peace and Progress, interest was generated in specific programs leading to conflict resolutions that individual NGOs have successfully facilitated. To identify and provide a description of these programs, the Executive Committee of the NGO-DPI of the United Nations is developing a handbook of the various NGO activities focused on conflict resolution programs. An additional purpose of this handbook is to provide the opportunity for information sharing and exchange in order to assist in the adaptation of programs and concepts to other specific context areas.

Conflict resolution is both an important and timely issue for the global community. This handbook is intended to provide an overview of collective contributions that NGOs have made and are making for world peace. Your participation in this project is invited."

The Director General of the Inter-University Centre (IUC), Professor Ørjar Øyen from University of Bergen, Norway, informs us that Dubrovnik and the IUC are recovering from the war. The academic program at the IUC for 1993 comprises 32 courses and eight conferences. Many of these courses and conferences shall meet in the City of Dubrovnik, if the political and military situation remains stable.

With his project IUC Humanitarian Relief Assistance for Dubrovnik, Professor RUDOLF J SIEBERT has done great work in collecting funds for the relief of the suffering people in Dubrovnik and elsewhere in Ex-Yugoslavia.

As Course Director of The Future of Religion: The End of History which will be held in Dubrovnik from April 19-30, 1993, he writes:

"We are writing this letter of invitation to you in the hope that - as in the coming three months the situation in and around Dubrovnik shall further be stabilized - Hotel Argentina will still be open for us, or that Hotel Lero shall have newly opened up again, and that we shall be able to conduct our course in one or the other of these hotels, and that we can show our solidarity with the innocent victims, and that we can bring some help. While our old IUB Building, which has been destroyed internally over a year ago by rockets, is in the process of being reconstructed, it will take some time until we can move into it again.

As we are writing this letter of invitation, we are definite about our meeting in the City of Dubrovnik and we therefore have no further contingency plans. We are fairly certain that no further hostile actions will take place in or around Dubrovnik, and that we can reach the city undisturbed either by boat from Ryeka, Croatia, like last year, or by car along the Dalmatian coast, or by air with the Croatian Airlines via the airport of Split, or even via the airport of Dubrovnik.

Thus, we, the Directors and the Coordinator, would like very much to invite you wholeheartedly and very personally in the name of the IUC to join us as resource persons and participants to our 17th international course on the Future of Religion: The End of History? in the Hotel Argentina in Dubrovnik from April 19-30, 1993."

INSTITUTIONS

Estonian Institute of Future Studies

Established on December 24, 1991, EIFS is a non-profit institution which was founded by individual persons EIFS is engaged in conducting futures research, propagating the results obtained and the way of thinking ensuing from the latter

The activities of the EIFS have been targeted at assisting the development of the Estonian society and economy by improving the strategic level of future-affecting decisions providing current thinking with future orientation and strategic bias

To achieve these objectives set, EIFS will

- arrange drawing up of future-oriented scenarion,
- arrange elaboration of key issues of the Estonian future,
- arrange open discussions on the key issues and expert examinations of the anticipated consequences of strategic decisions,
- arrange publishing and popularizing of respective materials,
- provide different kinds of future-biased training programs and consulting services, draw up various development programs, explore public opinion, and participate in alternative ways of settling issues related to future studies and strategies

In addition, EIFS contributes to arranging regular Estonian Future Congresses engaging a wide representation of the scientific and business circles

Russian futures associations

Since the collapse of the Communist regime in Russia, regional associations of futurists have been set up in Moscow, St Petersburg, and Novosibirsk The All-Russian Future Research Centre in Moscow, All-Russian Association for the Future in Cooperation with the World Futures Studies Federation, the Institute of Social Forecasting in the Russian

Open University Moscow, and a Chair of Social Forecasting

Two topics are now the most attractive for Russian futurists

- Scenarios for possible futures for Russia, Europe and the world in the immediate and medium term
- Concepts of alternative world civilization to overcome global problems in the next century

Futures Research Department, Budapest University of Economic Sciences

Organizational Development The Group of Futurology was developed from a 1968 research seminar in Futurology at the Karl Marx University of Economics. The members were recruited from students, scholarship holders and external fellows. On the basis of results in education and research, this Group was reorganized in 1979 into the Section on Futures Research in the frames of the National Planning Institute. In 1992, in connection with a comprehensive reform of training and organizational structure at the university level the Futures Research Department has been established at the Faculty of Economics

Research Activity

The special field of the research team has always been the investigation into long-term future alternatives for Hungary and to establish scientific background for forecasting. The research attitude is characterized by the endeavour to synthesize and to approach processes in a comprehensive way with special attention to strategic points. The research activity has been performed in association with several national research projects, on the basis of contracts with different organizations and for educational purposes as well. The results have been applied to the practice of national, regional and environmental policy, at the elaboration of various development projects. These experiences are organic components of teaching

Fields of research

- Hungary in 2000 and 2020 – the frames and alternative images for Hungarian futures

- Forecasting the generating elements of long-range future development
- Methodologies and methods for long-range forecasting and for the utilization of forecasts in strategic planning

The XXI Century Foundation, Bulgaria

The XXI Century Foundation was established in the summer of 1990. Its set-up matched a major social need – to stimulate the development of futures studies for helping in solving problems of crucial importance for the future of Bulgaria. The Foundation accepted as a mission one of its main goals – to be a bridge between Bulgaria and the world and to promote the successful integration of Bulgaria into the world community

Research Activity

The place of the Foundation in the Bulgarian social life is determined by its vocation to create future designs, to stimulate and perform strategic analyses and research as well as consulting activities

- Main Macroeconomic, structural and political trends in the development of Bulgaria till the year 2010-2020
- The national security of Bulgaria under the conditions of global structural changes
- Anticipated social conflicts in the transition to a market economy

- Barometer of the political changes in the Bulgarian society
- Instrumentarium for the development of privatization programmes

Committee for Futures Studies

Poland in the XXI Century, Polish Academy of Sciences

Since 1969, comprehensive studies on the social and economic development in Poland have been carried out. From the beginning, prognostic works have been co-ordinated and prepared by the Committee "Poland 2000", specially set up for this aim at the Presidium of the Polish Academy of Sciences

The Committee has focused its research work on the development processes which have an influence on the society and economy for a long period of time. Special attention has been given to the problems and proportions arising in the course of development process as well as to the relationships between the various areas of social life

At present, the Committee has been working on the following problems

- Labour supply in Poland till 2010
- Marco-structures and competitiveness of the Polish national economy
- Scientific discoveries and macro-technologies of the future in the Polish industry

- Preserving the Polish national identity in the process of entering the EC
- Consequences of global tendencies in the world economy and culture for Poland
- Systems of values and interdisciplinary processes
- Industry - urbanization - environment
- Polish raw-materials resources, alternative renewable sources
- Society in the future
- etc

Finland Futures Research Centre

Finland Futures Research Centre was founded in summer 1992 by the Ministry of Education of Finland as a Special Unit with the Turku School of Economics and Business Administration

The Finland Research Centre is working at national and international level in futures studies, futures awareness and for post-graduate education

The Centre is governed by a Board of nine members representing various academic and other interests in futures research

For the international contacts and for maintaining the research standards, an International Advisory Committee of widely well-known futures experts has been nominated

The research program of the Centre is composed of the methodology of futures studies and its applications in societal and technological development

Projects and research programs include also post-graduate studies and consulting companies and public administration on strategic management

The Research Centre organizes and runs postgraduate and continuous education courses in futures studies, and conducts seminars and conferences in co-operation with universities and other cooperative partners

The postgraduate program supplies the students with basic theoretical and methodological facilities for practicing futures studies as well as advances their knowledge and understanding of crucial substantial topics in the field
